Differentiation and supports

Support area	This week's plan
Special education / IEP	Reduce group size; pair visual cue cards with all verbal directions; allow gesture or picture response in place of speech; pre-teach the week's target in a 1:1 warm-up.
Section 504	Provide the child's documented accommodations throughout; permit movement breaks and alternative seating at any point in the sequence.
Multilingual learners	Introduce each vocabulary word with an object or image; accept home-language responses; send the vocabulary list home where a translation is available; pair with a peer who shares the home language.
Advanced / extension	Ask the learner to teach the skill to a peer, extend the task, or record a demonstration for the class reference wall.

Support area	This week's plan
Intervention / reteach	Reteach the target in a short small group using the same materials; split the day's check for understanding into two smaller steps.
Enrichment	Extend into an open-ended centre or project connected to the essential question.

Assessment and evidence

Child dictates a sentence about their work.

Family communication

Write down what the child says under their drawing.

Day 41 — My Words on Paper

Week 9, Day 1 • Unit 3 • Standards: Standard 3.6

Focus	Speech becomes print.
Learning target	"I can tell you what to write."
Vocabulary in use	dictate, write, words
Local date	_____

Learning sequence

Circle: teacher writes a child's words. Model: teacher says and writes slowly. Practice: children dictate a few words. Play: dictation at the drawing table.

Check for understanding

Child dictates words about their drawing.

Differentiation in the moment

If the learner...	Then...
needs more support	Model the step again with guided support, then fade to a gesture cue.
is ready for more	Invite the learner to demonstrate for a peer or add a second example.
is dysregulated	Pause instruction, move to co-regulation, and return to the target later.

Closure and reflection

Gather the group. Restate the learning target. Ask one learner to demonstrate. Name one specific thing the group did well, then preview tomorrow.

Teacher reflection (fictional example)

Fictional Example — Customize and Verify Before School Submission.

Most learners met the target. Two needed the visual cue repeated during guided practice; I will pre-teach with them tomorrow. The extension held attention longer than planned, so I shortened closure.

Source citation

Montana Office of Public Instruction. Montana Early Learning Standards (2014). Codes and statements are transcribed from the 2014 MONTANA EARLY LEARNING STANDARDS, which the document's own cover dates 2014 and which OPI still publishes at the URL above. It carries FORTY-SEVEN NUMBERED STANDARDS running 1.1 to 4.23 across FOUR CORE DOMAINS -- 1 Emotional and Social, 2 Physical, 3 Communication, 4 Cognition -- so a standard number identifies a standard uniquely without needing its domain. THE 2014 DOCUMENT IS THE ONLY MONTANA EARLY LEARNING DOCUMENT THAT CARRIES CODES AT ALL. The document OPI currently links from its K-12 Content Standards page is the MONTANA EARLY LEARNING DEVELOPMENTAL DOMAINS AND CONTENT STANDARDS, ADOPTED APRIL 2024, the standards chapter of Administrative Rules of Montana 10.63 (<https://opifiles.mt.gov/Portals/182/Page%20Files/Early%20Literacy/Ch.%2063%20Early%20Childhood%20Education%20Standards.pdf>). THAT 2024 DOCUMENT CONTAINS NO STANDARD NUMBERS OF ANY KIND -- it states its domains and clusters as running prose and bullets over nine pages -- so no code can be cited from it and none is invented here. The 2024 rule is visibly derived from the 2014 standards, its cluster bullets being near-verbatim rewrites of the 2014 statements with "Children" changed to "students", which is why the 2014 codes remain the honest citation for the same content. THE 2014 DOCUMENT WAS PRODUCED JOINTLY: the Early Childhood Services Bureau of the Montana Department of Public Health and Human Services funded it, Dr. Cindy O'Dell led the revision with the Early Learning Standards Task Force, and the Early Childhood Project at Montana State University Bozeman and OPI are named as partners; OPI is registered as the agency because OPI publishes it and is the agency the school-submission reader will expect. EVERY STANDARD IS PRINTED THREE TIMES in the 2014 document -- in the table of contents, on its sub-domain introduction page, and as the heading of its own developmental-continuum page -- and all three printings are compared here, with the form printed in the MAJORITY of the three registered and every disagreement disclosed on the row that carries it. The PDF's text layer uses typographic ligatures; these are normalised to plain ASCII letter pairs when transcribing, which changes no words. The per-standard pages carry "Benchmarks", "Indicators" and "Learning Opportunities" columns spanning an Infancy-to-preschool developmental continuum; NONE OF THOSE ARE STANDARDS, they interleave unreliably when the PDF is read as text, and none is registered. THE STANDARD STATEMENT IS WHAT IS REGISTERED. THIS ENTRY REGISTERS A SINGLE STANDARD, 3.6 PRINT DEVELOPMENT/WRITING, and every strand of the year maps to it. That is not an oversight. The 2014 Montana Early Learning Standards devote exactly one standard to emergent writing, so a week-by-week writing year is necessarily finer-grained than the framework above it; the planner prints the full strand-to-code mapping table so a reviewer can trace every week to the standard, and the listing says plainly before purchase that this course carries one state code. Standard 3.6's statement is printed 'Children demonstrate interest and skills' in two printings and 'Children develop interest and skills' in one; the majority form is registered.
